Gathering and transmitting American news and United Nations news to the U.S.S.R. Our news sources include: the despatches of American news agencies with which we have contractual relations (The Associated Press and the United Press); newspapers published in New York, Washington and various other cities of the United States and Latin America; magazines and other periodicals; press releases and reports issued by governmental and private agencies and institutions. In addition, our correspondents directly cover important press conferences, public meetings and other developments when circumstances and our resources permit. For instance, Tass correspondents cover the meetings of the United Nations Security Council and other United Nations bodies; our correspondents in Washington cover White House and State Department press conferences and important congressional debates, etc. On the basis of these sources, we write our daily news reports. After the reports are written and edited, they are transmitted through the usual commercial communications channels. At the present time, almost our entire wordage goes through RCA. Occasionally when RCA communications are disrupted we transmit through Press Wireless or Western Union. Besides our daily cable service we transmit mail articles on subjects of a less "spot" character. Our area of coverage includes Latin America as well as the United States and our reports about Latin America are based on the despatches of the American news agencies as well as on Latin American newspapers and periodicals.
